

Just to let you know.....
From the Year 5 Group Room

Nuts 'n bolts - I've heard from a couple of parents that spelling books aren't making their way home so rather than put the current week's spelling on JTLYK we're going to post the following week's words. Next week's list will be plural nouns ending with the letter 'o': potatoes, tomatoes, echoes, dominoes, volcanoes, heroes, tornadoes. Why not have a try at extending the list? A good website we've used in the group room is rhymezone.com. Just type in a word and you get a list. This is one of our favourite websites.

This week we had fun looking at the features and layout of recipes and how important it is not to mix your tsp with your tbsp! Ask your child what a bossy verb is in relation to recipes (stir, mix, pour, etc.).

Have a great weekend!
