

Just to let you know...

Dear Parents,

Just to let you know that there is an opportunity during half term week for you to take your child to an event at the Guildford Museum called 'Meet the Romans'. It is on Tuesday 16th February from 11am until 1pm, if you fancy it!

Also, it's Book Week from Monday 29th to Friday 4th March. So the children will have the opportunity to dress up as one of their favourite book characters on the Friday.

There will be no homework over the half term and spellings will be set in the first week back. Please continue to read for pleasure with your child.

Have a lovely half term.

Best wishes,

Julia, James and Jo.

In English, we have been writing an informal letter home, from the perspective of a soldier patrolling Hadrian's Wall. The children re-enacted the monotony of guarding the wall on the Downs. They formed Milecastles and took shifts in marching along the wall. They were also surprised by an attack by some Picts!

The children have been continued to look at Roman Villas and created their own Roman Villas from their designs, using a variety of mediums.

In maths this week we have been learning about 3D shapes. The children have used vocabulary like: edges, vertices and faces to describe different 3D shapes to each other. They have also investigated which nets could successfully make cubes. Additionally, they made their own 3D nets.

Is there an alternative way to create the same 3D net?
