

Dear Parents,

We have had a super week this week exploring different media and creating our art exhibitions. The children learnt a range of skills including pastels, paintbrush control, collage, printing and crayon rubbing. They then applied their skills to create a final piece. Fluffy Friday has been great fun as always and the children have impressed us with their confidence in making new friends and trying new activities. Have a super half term and we will see you on the 24th February!

Sound of the Week

Please practise all of the sounds in your sound of the week book over half term! Have a go at reading them within words too!

Maths Focus

This week we have been revisiting pictograms and data handling.
Over half term why not use pictograms to decide what to eat, play, watch or do!
