

Just to let you know.....
From the Year 6 Group Room

Nuts 'n bolts - I've heard from a couple of parents that spelling books aren't making their way home so rather than put the current week's spelling on JTLYK we're going to post the following week's words. Next week's list will be words containing a silent 'b' - Comb, climb, crumb, thumb, numb, bomb, lamb, tomb, plumber. Why not extend these by adding 'ed' and 'ing' suffixes where they will fit?

This week we've had fun learning onomatopoeic words (Lynn had to practise spelling that word several times before writing it on the board!) We also listened to a beautiful poem about a river on Youtube and from it identified personification. A good game to play on car journeys would be to try to think of different ways to use personification, e.g. The flowers waltzed in the gentle breeze, the wind sang through the meadow. Next week the children will be writing poems about deforestation in the Amazon Rainforest so this will be good practice.

We hope the children have a wonderful trip to Wisley next week and hope you all have a great weekend.
