

Just to let you know...

Phonics

This week we will be working on writing simple sentences. We will be teaching the children what a sentence is and modelling capital letters, full stops and finger spaces between words. We will also be reminding children to write from left to right especially when they start a new line.

Look Out Discovery Centre

We all really looking forward to our trip on Wednesday 19th June. We would also love some extra helpers if you are willing and able.

Friendship Forms

There will be a form in your child's book bag. We use these to help us sort the children into their new classes. Please return these by Wednesday.

Maths

This week we will be revising some of the work we covered just before half term such as 3D shapes, forming numbers properly and ordering numbers. We will also be continuing work with capacity as part of Water LEAP. At home feel free to fill different containers with water and ask them to predict which container hold the most water. A lot of children will assume that the taller the container the more liquid it will hold-which isn't always the case....

Yellow Submarine/Octopus' Garden

The children have really enjoyed learning these songs by The Beatles. So much so, that we now have themed role play areas in both classrooms based on the songs. We have talked to the children briefly about who The Beatles are and that Ringo Starr (who wrote Octopus' Garden) lives just down the road in Cranleigh! Do ask your child if they can sing the songs to you. If you have any other Beatles music at home-I'm sure they would love to hear it.
