

Topic fun

This week we have turned our attention to what Pudding Lane might have been like before the Great Fire. We have been using all our senses, touch, taste, hearing and smell to describe what Pudding Lane was like—some of our experiences would have been nicer than others!

We loved visiting the Farmers' Market. We were able to use all the things we saw and learned to help us imagine what a market would have been like all that time ago. We watched a huge pot of steaming porridge being made, found some very unusual vegetables, got to hold a truly enormous crab and tasted some amazing flavours.

Spellings ...

'ay' words - may, play, spray, stray, dismay, portray, betray, array, display, praying, staying, airway, Wednesday, delayed.

Maths

We have been collecting data and making charts this week. We have been recording numbers as tallies, practising counting in sets of 5 and starting to turn our results into simple bar charts.

Can you do a little survey of the people in your family? You could find out about their favourite foods or their favourite colours. Can you draw a bar chart? You will need a pencil, a ruler, some paper, patience and some help!

I'm bored box

In 1666 there were no cars, only horses and carts. Find some pictures of real horses. What would it have been like with the street full of them? Can you make a cart out of junk? Paint it so it looks realistic. Can you make wheels that really go round?

Things to remember

Christmas Cards

Please return the orders with your child's card designs ON MONDAY 8TH OCTOBER.

1666 Day on Friday 12th!

We would love to see your children dressed in simple costumes as we travel back in time to 1666. See attached for details. We would love some helpers for any part of the day. Please let us know if you can help.

Maths Evening—Thursday 11th

7-8 pm. Please come along to find out about how we teach maths.

The Great Fire of Pewley—we still need more big boxes, please bring them in this week if you have any.

200 Celebrations - please look in the newsletter for the events happening during 15-19 October.

Writing corner

Can you make a Pudding Lane poem? Think of as many words as you can that go with Pudding Lane and put them all together. Does it make you feel like you were there?
