

Just to let you know...

Try and get out to the Chantries this week!

As you probably all know, SATs are around the corner and the children are working extremely hard. So that the children feel fully prepared we are running a mock week starting next Monday (29th May). After we have marked the papers, we will be giving the children further opportunities to practise any area where they feel under-confident.

Spellings:

Keep practising spellings from the lists that we have given you!

Maths

This week have started our maths carousel. This has been designed to give the children an opportunity to revise all of the key areas of maths including data handling, properties of shapes, mental maths and efficient methods for calculating sums using the four operations. Please remind your child to keep practising their times tables and encourage them to spend some time on athletics!

Preston Montford Payments.

Please can we have outstanding payment as soon as possible. If there is a problem please

Dear Parents,

Thank you for attending the Preston Montford meeting this week, we hope you found it useful. We have attached the kit list and the timetable to this just in case you didn't get it.

Best wishes,
Sarah, Cheryl, Mary, Claire and Helen
