

Results of 2022 Parent Survey

Summary and key findings

- There were 101 responses from across all year groups.
- 95% of families would recommend the school to another parent.
- There was an overwhelmingly positive response to questions about children being happy, safe, well looked after, taught well and making good progress.
- Similarly, questions about our broad curriculum, our clubs' provision, and our focus on respect, empathy and wider personal development generated very positive responses.
- A small number of parents (4%) feel that we could communicate information about children's progress and about the curriculum being taught more effectively. Please do ask if you feel that you need more information and remember to take a look at the weekly "Just to Let You Know Pages".
- Several families (28%) weren't able to agree or disagree on whether we have high expectations for their child; if this concerns you, please do speak to your child's teacher.
- 71% of parents felt that we set the right amount of homework, with the remaining parents split between feeling it was not enough (23%), and that it was too much (6%).
- No families of children with SEND felt that we fail to support their child.
- Whilst concerns about behaviour are very few (3%), any child who is negatively impacted by the poor behaviour of others is one too many. Please do not hesitate to speak to me if you have any unresolved concerns.
- Thank you for all the useful comments, feedback and suggestions. The school governors and senior leaders will find them invaluable as we meet to consider the school's next steps.

I think that the staff and curriculum promote equality and, where necessary, challenge stereotypes

Children with SEND are given the support that they need to succeed

HTPD has high expectations for my child

