

PROMISE OF THE WEEK...

I WILL BE WITH YOU
ALWAYS, I WILL NEVER ABANDON YOU!

Poor Mole stood alone in the road, his heart torn asunder, and a big sob gathering somewhere low down inside him, to leap up to the surface presently, he knew, in passionate escape. But even under such a test as this his loyalty to his friend stood firm. Never for a moment did he dream of abandoning him...

The Rat, astonished and dismayed at the violence of Mole's paroxysm of grief, did not dare to speak for a while. At last he said, very quietly and sympathetically, 'What is it old fellow? Whatever can be the matter? Tell us your trouble and let me see what I can do.'
