Just To Let You Know

Friday 22nd May 2026

Dear Parents and Carers,

We have had a wonderful final week of the half term, finishing with a fantastic Fluffy Friday!

We have continued our learning about WWII in preparation for both of our school trips after half term. The children have made their gas mask boxes ready for Evacuee Day, and have also completed their letters in English, writing to friends and relatives to kindly ask them to look after their flat evacuees. We are hoping to post these after half term, so please ensure your child's addressed and stamped envelope is sent in before the end of this week.

Have a lovely weekend,

Danni, Laura, Abigail, Lydia and Holly.

Maths

In Maths, we have finished our learning on fractions, ending with a recap on finding fractions of an amount. The children found this particularly challenging, so we planned additional lessons and support sessions to help those who needed it most. We then enjoyed some fraction-based games during Thursday's lesson, which the children thoroughly enjoyed.

Can your child answer the following fractions of an amount questions?

English

In English this week, we finished writing our letters to friends and relatives, asking them the small favour of looking after our flat evacuees. The children have coloured and dressed their 2D evacuees, and after half term we will post them along with their handwritten letters.

They have included the names of their evacuees and explained what they like and do not like. Hopefully, this will help their friends and relatives to take good care of their flat evacuees.

Languages

In Spanish, the children learned the names of some fruit and vegetables. See if they can tell you how many of this fruit there are?
